

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—The Senate to refuse acceptance of the Shantung provision in the peace treaty. Senator Stimson, Republican, of Maine, declared today that the clause giving Japan control of Shantung "so insults and poisons the people's altruism with which the League of Nations was heralded as to make it the superlative treachery in the history of modern times."

The provision, asserted the speaker, might add Japan in becoming "the scourge rather of the world," and strengthen her for the day when she might try like Germany, for world empire. In such an eventuality, he continued, and with British and Japanese interests in the Orient "deadly," the United States might well look to the safety of the Philippine Islands.

"Why China should be exploited," he said, "her territory absorbed in the guise of leaseholds, her port cities dominated by alien powers, her mining and railway rights seized by Japan, does not appear except under the rule of covetous desire coupled with military force."

"It is material to notice under the Japanese constitution the emperor has the supreme command of the army and navy, declares war, makes peace, and concludes treaties. The Kaiser could do no more in the days he menaced Europe and the world. It is as plain as the noon day sun that the government is autocratic and that it will add Chinese provinces upon province, concession upon concession until an Asiatic Kaiser will dominate the affairs of Asia and the Pacific Ocean."

In 1897, Germany professing to be exasperated by the murder of two ex-Protestant German missionaries by ignorant fanatics in Shantung sent Germany's warships to the bay, bombarded the ports, landed troops and occupied the territory. In settlement she compelled the Chinese government to sign a 99 year lease without concessions for railway building and mining. A mere lease of property by one government to another does not divest the lesser government of sovereignty over the territory leased. Japan entered the war for the express purpose of driving the Germans out of the leased territory. The expulsion of Germany gave Japan no sovereign rights there which she has since assumed.

"The heartless of Japanese occupation, the cruelties inflicted on the helpless inhabitants, the seizure of property and the resulting looting freely turns one's thoughts to the German conduct in Belgium. We denounce one in unmitigated terms. We are asked to approve the other and declare it justified in a holy cause."

"Japan intends, we are told, in a limited time, to withdraw from Shantung and return that country to the Chinese. In every instance in which Japan has pledged herself on the continent of Asia to occupy temporarily, she has made that occupancy permanent."

"The United States exercises sovereignty in the Philippines. Japan's expansion in reward as well as land-ocean as well as the Asiatic mainland with Germany in perpetual intrigue. It is so far inference that a partition resulting from a union of these two powers in Europe and Asia is an impossible event."

"Japan assumes sovereign rights over Chinese territory. Mere refinement of language or specious interpretation will not remove this impending truth. Japan will not surrender this advantage so gained. Article 15 and the portion of the treaty relating to Shantung are twin brothers of a common iniquity. They speak the language of a joint outrage and bear the evidence of deliberate prearranged conspiracy."

"Great Britain have a large part in the war. The life blood of Great Britain is her foreign trade. We are without adequate experience in foreign trade. We are upon the threshold of that experiment. Great Britain is keenly observant of our course. She has been void of sentiment and some times of humanity in breaking down and destroying her rivals."

"We have denied Japan the right of immigration for her subjects. It is a wound to their pride. We are vulnerable in the Philippines. Our great friend lies beyond in the people of the Chinese republic. In our day of peril it must be remembered that the interests of Great Britain and Japan in the Orient are identical."

CONGRESS ASKED TO SET ASIDE DAY FOR WELCOME, ENTERTAINED BY KING Republican Senator Defends League Of Nations' Covenant, Must Stand By The Allies PEACE TREATY CONFERENCE HELD AT THE WHITE HOUSE ARE EXCITING KEEN INTERESTS

Announcing his support for the principles embodied in the League of Nations' covenant, but withholding judgment regarding certain reservations, Senator Colt, Republican, Rhode Island, told the senate today that the nation "must at least see the great undertaking upon which we have embarked in entering the war through to the end, which can only be done by our becoming a member of the league."

The Rhode Island senator declared himself unable to agree with the objections that the league would create a superstate or subvert the American constitution. He said, however, that the Monroe doctrine must be clearly for national action.

"The League of Nations in its essence is simply an association of free nations," he said. "The principle of international co-operation as the means by which international peace can be made secure has never been tried before. All other means of preventing war have failed. Not to try this experiment would leave the world in the same condition of international anarchy as it was before the war. There is no antagonism between true nationalism and an internationalism which would substitute the reign of law for the reign of force.

"If we believe that it would be dishonorable to withdraw from Europe and stay in this critical hour when the whole world is in turmoil, then the United States should certainly remain in the league during this world settlement and until peace and order are restored. To my mind, we must at least see the great undertaking upon which we embarked in entering the war through to the end and, as a part of this undertaking, we must help to reestablish a new world order by the enforcement of the terms of peace, which can only be done by our becoming a member of the League of Nations.

"I believe the great mass of the American people are convinced that something must be done to prevent world in its old condition, and they favor the League of Nations, based upon international co-operation as the best solution of the problem. I am in favor of the principles embodied in the League of Nations. This does not mean that I have reached a decision that the league should be ratified in the precise form in which it is now presented.

"There has been much controversy over the question whether the league should not be separated from the peace treaty. I have always believed the league to be inseparable from the peace treaty, because the treaty cannot be enforced except through the league."

The senate today adopted the resolution by Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri, and referred to committee, the senate would declare its "deep regret at the disposition of Shantung."

Before the senate met, the foreign relations committee held another session to consider the treaty, but devoted its time to reading the text.

Kaiser Was Ready for Peace Thought Ford When The Latter Made His Famous Voyage

MT. CLEMENS, MICH., July 17.—Court had been in session nearly three hours today before Henry Ford, plaintiff in a $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune, resumed the witness stand. The opening hours were consumed with testimony by Klirke B. Alexander and the reading of a magazine article on Mr. Ford by John Reed in 1910.

"The article says you live in a million dollar house," said Attorney Elliott U. Sterenson, representing the Tribune.

"More than that, I think."

"A million and a half?"

"Well, I don't really know."

"Maybe you don't want to know."

"I told them not to tell me," said Mr. Ford, laughing.

"Mr. Reed paints you as a very democratic person who loves to sit on a neighbor's back porch and talk. The neighbors don't sit on your back porch, do they? Guards keep them away, don't they?"

An objection was sustained. Mr. Ford said that Reed gathered practically all of the statements in his story elsewhere than from the witnesses.

Mr. Ford opposed the use of alcoholic drink and Mr. Reed pointed out that the Germans thrive on beer and the French on wine.

"Yes, said I think that was one of the causes of the war," said Mr. Ford. "How," asked the lawyer.

"It made them suspicious of each other."

MOUNT CLEMENS, MICH., July 17.—Henry Ford at the opening court today had a respite from the witness stand while a magazine article about himself by John Reed, published in 1910, entitled "Industrial Miracle Maker," was read.

When Mr. Ford resumed the stand, examination which began last Monday, was continued by Elliott G. Sterenson.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Shunting and the League of Nations were debated in the senate again today while President Wilson was beginning his conferences with republican senators.

Senator Colt, Republican of Rhode Island, announced to the senate his conviction that the United States must enter the league to fulfill its present obligations to the world, and Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois, made an attack on the league and the Shunting provision.

In making his announcement, Senator Colt said he withheld judgment on certain reservations.

Senator Sherman characterized the league as a "great confidence" and I do not feel at liberty to discuss what happened."

Senator McCumber added that his position in regard to the League of Nations "had been made as clear as the English language could make it and that his position now was same as it always had been."

Senator McCumber would not discuss whether the Shunting situation under discussion.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Wilson began today conferences with republican senators for discussion of the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant. His first caller was Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, a supporter of the treaty and the league.

KIDNAPPER ARRESTED

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Conservative members of the prohibition faction in the house set out yesterday to curb what they described as radical attempts to make the pending enforcement bill so drastic that it might excite a revolution of feeling throughout the country on the whole question of liquor drinking.

Warning was given by the conservatives that if the radical element went too far and added other severe penalties to the existing statute to punish too far. The farmer's wife who makes a quart of blackberry wine at home for use in her own family, Mr. Potts said, could be prosecuted and sent to jail. The farmer's home where a little cider is made for the family would be a nuisance under the law, according to Mr. Potts who declared that Russia in the days of the Czar's highest power never made a law that was so far-reaching.

WASHINGTON D. C. July 17.—Senators invited to the White House tomorrow to discuss the treaty include McNary, Oregon, who is understood to favor the League of Nations, and Kellough, Minnesota, and Capper, Kansas, who have not announced any definite stand in the league proposal. The president's invitation to Senator McNary asked that he come to the White House to discuss "the treaty and all it

...vice defeat in the senate and possibly find all their work thrown out by a presidential veto. The need of wise counsel was pointed out by the conservative prohibitionists in view of the published announcement that Representative Morgan, Republican, of Oklahoma and a member of the judiciary committee, had given notice that he would endeavor to make it a violation of the law for a man to keep a jug of liquor in his own home for his own use. Word was spread during the day that other prohibitionists were preparing to write into the bill a provision stricken out by the committee which would prohibit a man's "using" a little liquor he might happen to have around the house. Under the bill now before the house it is extremely doubtful a member of the judiciary committee said today, whether a person could give a drink of whiskey to a friend at his own fireside without running the risk of arrest.

There were many informal conferences at which some of the drastic provisions of the bill as pointed out by Representative Poin of North Carolina, a Democrat and a pioneer prohibitionist, were called up like a bar room ghost to keep the radicals from going

DEFAULTER ARRESTED

CHICAGO, July 17.—John Worthington, former Chicago burglar, wanted in connection with the $125,000 worth of securities from Crittenden Brokerage Company, Pittsburgh, last February, has been captured in Vancouver, British Columbia, according to word received here today.

The search for the fugitive has been carried on for two months by United States Secret Service and department of Justice officials.

Worthington was placed under $10,000 in the municipal court May 20, following his arrest in connection with the Pittsburgh robbery. He fled the city and was arrested while preparing to sail for Japan. He is being held by the Canadian authorities, pending extradition.

Invitations to several more Republican senators to call at the White House tomorrow have been sent by the president, it was announced. Their names were not disclosed, but it was understood that there were five on the list.

It was intimated that the president planned to invite all of the Republican Senators to the White House, devoting four or five hours each day to their month-long. Senators Warah, Idaho, and Johnson, California, two of the bitterest opponents of the League of Nations, were expected to be on the list, but there apparently was some doubt in administration circles whether they would accept.

Under the present plans of the president, it was not believed that he would be able to start on his trip to the Pacific coast much before the end of the month. Even with such a delay naval officials hoped that he would be able to reach the coast in time to review the new Pacific fleet at San Francisco, August 15.

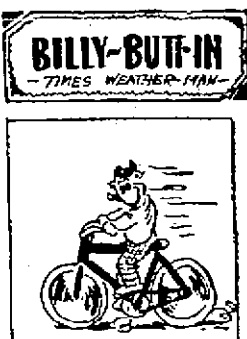

Senator McCumber was closeted with the president for more than an hour. He declined to discuss details of his conference, saying he considered them confidential.

"Our conversation covered a wide range," said Senator McCumber, "and if the president wants to say what we talked about that is all right. But as far as I am concerned, I consider that our conversation was confidential."

They seem to be against every president is for and I suppose lived here they'd be for Litchi about my size. But a kicker is necessary; some times and barking dog, they never get a them's for tomorrow.

Says President Explained Clearly Shantung Affair, May Issue Explanation

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—After a conference with President Wilson today at the White House, Senator Clegg, Republican, of Rhode Island, said he believed the Shantung settlement in the peace treaty "could be made much clearer than it appears to be at present."

Senator Clegg said he thought the president was in a position to make a complete exposition of the Shantung situation and he indicated that some of the points in discussion of this section of the treaty involved had been satisfactorily explained to him.

Senator Clegg said it had been pointed out to him that Japan had made certain concessions in return for what she received and that in considering the Shantung question, the influence of the League of Nations on Japan had been remembered.

Senator Clegg intimated that there was a possibility the president might make a statement in regard to Shantung. The senator added he believed that if made, the statement would be an open one and that it might even be delivered at an open session of the senate.

Praises Local Canteen

"The Portsmouth Red Cross people treated us better than any others I have seen while in the service," writes John W. Donahoe, of Cincinnati, to his aunt, Donahoe landed at Newport News, Va., last week from overseas and passed through this city while on the way to his home in the Queen City.

"Can" Without Sugar

Although there is a shortage of sugar at present for canning purposes, housewives are advised not to let berries and fruit go to waste as they can be canned in their own juices without sugar. When the berries and fruit are opened sugar can be added and the fruit or berries prepared in the way they should have been at first. Many have said they would give up canning this season on account of the sugar shortage, but this will not be at all necessary with several other canning processes in use whereby the preserving of fruits may be carried out without sugar. Sugar will be necessary in the making of jellies and jams.

WALKS IN HIS SLEEP; MISSES CONNECTIONS WITH HIS CLOTHES; DRESSES IN SHEET

The Enquirer today said: "One of the most comfortable 'sleeping nights' in Southern Ohio in many weeks was 'lost' to Lawrence Jackson, 11 yesterday, who arrived in Cincinnati yesterday with the remembrance of a 'dress' suit.

The boy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Jackson, was on a Norfolk and Western train enroute from Norfolk, Va., to Flint, Mich. Shortly before the train reached Portsmouth, Ohio, he walked in his sleep from his berth into the next Pullman. The car with his mother and father—and his clothes—was switched off at Portsmouth for Cincinnati while the one into which he had wandered went to Columbus. Garbed in a bed sheet and a distracted look, he marched through the depot through at Columbus yesterday in search of a new outfit. Back again in the clothes of civilization he was placed on a Big Boy train for Cincinnati where his parents were awaiting him at the station. His whereabouts during the trip had been ascertained by W. G. Hopkins, 27 West Madison street, conductor of the N. & W. train to Cincinnati.

The body of Mrs. Andre was taken back to her home following her death on the train. Mrs. Oakes was a sister of the deceased. John Blonden

In the death of John Blonden, who died about seven o'clock this morning, another name must be taken from the slowly, but relentlessly diminishing list of Civil War Veterans. The final summons came to Mr. Blonden at his home, 1140 Twelfth street, after an extended illness of complications. He had been bedfast only ten days before he passed to the Great Beyond.

The deceased was born at Mechanicburg, Md., December 18, 1845. During the war he was a member of Co. B, 3rd Regiment, Potomac Home Brigade, Maryland, Md. After the war he came to Portsmouth and for many years worked for the Gilbert Grocery company. Of later years he worked at the death of his wife, Anna Blonden, who died February 20, 1901, Mr. Blonden had no relatives and lived alone, at the home where he passed away.

The funeral will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Friday afternoon, from Wadell's Undertaking Parlor, with burial in the soldiers' circle in Greenlawn.

Mrs. Joseph Hukle

Queen Elizabeth Cox, daughter of William and Anna Cox, was born near Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 21th, 1850. While yet a small child her parents left her birth-place and came to the state of Ohio and settled in Lawrence county, where the greater part of her young life was spent.

She was converted while yet in her teens, accepting Christ as her Savior and friend. For more than fifty years she lived the name of Jesus in prayer, praise and song. The greater part of her Christian life was spent as a member of the United Brethren church, of which she remained a member until death.

On Oct. 10th, 1868, she was united in marriage to Richard Belcher, and to this union was born nine children. He possessed a mind, soul and character like unto that of his wife. They at once established a family altar in the home, around which were gathered the children both morning and evening, and from which went the prayer and frankness and supplication unto the God whom they loved and served. The most and best that can be said of her, is that she was a Christian in the truest sense. A husband, two sons and one daughter have preceded her in death. She, after remaining a widow for more than five years, was again united in marriage to Joseph Hukle, Sept. 22, 1912. The union was one of tender, affectionate love, one for the other.

Her illness was of long standing, although varying in many ways, yet she bore it patiently. During the last four years of her life she was practically an invalid and was tenderly cared for by a kind, loving husband and her children.

Her death was due to the fatal disease, paralysis, which came July 15th, 1919, at 7:45 p.m., at the age of 69 years, 10 months and 17 days.

She leaves to mourn their loss a husband, two brothers, one sister, one daughter and five sons, 34 grandchildren and 6 great grand children, besides a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral will be conducted at her home, 1009 Offshore street, Friday, July 15th, at 10:30 a.m. The body will be laid to rest in Greenlawn cemetery, beneath a bed of flowers.

Ice Cream Social

An ice cream social will be given Friday evening, July 18, in the basement of the Terminal M. C. church, by the Young Ladies' Sunday School class. The proceeds will be used to pay their pledge to the cemetery work.

EXAMINER FINDS MORE THAN $7,000 DUE THE CITY

Illegal Payments Amounting To $32,000 Are Also Disclosed

A total of findings for recovery of $7,661.19, with a total of findings already returned of $878.95, leaving a total to be recovered by the city of Portsmouth of $8,540.14, is shown by the report of Will E. Heck, examiner for the department of state, bureau of inspection and supervision of public officers. The examination covered a period from March 1, 1917, to September 30, 1918, and a total of 421 type-written pages was necessary to show the result of the investigation.

In addition to the findings of money to be returned to the city, the report shows a list of irregularities affecting funds and accounts, and also gives a list of irregularities affecting funds and accounts.

The Times today publishes these findings, and will daily publish parts of the report, until all has been made public.

It will be noticed in the report that the Times in one item is to be paid a small amount due to a mistake in computation, and a larger amount is ordered paid back to the city. The Times rendered the service for all bills for which it was paid, went to the work and expense of setting up the ordinances, and published them. In some instances the examiner finds that the city had no right to order the publication, and in others the proper number of publications were not given. The Times, however, simply followed instructions, and in the language of the street, the paper is "the goat," as it carried out the instructions of the city and now gets no pay for doing it.

The first installment of the report follows:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Any person or persons examining this report for the purpose of obtaining information for the general public, as to the results, etc., of this examination, should remember:

1. That it takes years for a man to build a reputation.
2. That it is one of the purposes of these examinations to protect the honest, well-meaning official, who has made a mistake of the head and not of the heart.
3. That the summary of findings, as found in the front of this report only shows bare, cold figures. That this summary is indexed at the extreme left thereof. Turn to the page so indicated and see just what the examiner really has to say in connection with his findings.
4. If this course is pursued, the general public, whose servant the official is, will receive an unbiased report as to just what its officials are doing.

Respectfully submitted,

BUREAU OF INSPECTION AND SUPERVISION OF PUBLIC OFFICES
Will E. Heck,
State Examiner

GROCCERS SCORED IN EXAMINER'S REPORT

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., July 16.—Judge Bellamy and Son, grocers at Portsmouth, Ohio, are charged with having charged "exorbitant and unwarranted prices" for groceries furnished to persons held in quarantine at Portsmouth during the big May, June and July 1918, in the report of the state bureau of investigation, just made public. A finding of $600 is made against this firm, the report showing a comparison of orders and prices charged by Bellamy and Son with other Portsmouth grocers, in which it is shown that Bellamy charged two and a third times as much for big goods as the others. Out of a total of $2134.83 paid by the city for groceries during the quarantine, $1942.91 was to Bellamy's grocers, he receiving 93 percent of the total expenditure although having furnished but 41 per cent of the groceries.

How to Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, just take the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of pure borax in a half pint of water. It is a most refreshing and healthy skin treatment. As a skin-soother, the borax lotion is remarkably successful. Its action is almost magical. The deepest furrows as well as the finest lines around the eyes, forehead, mouth and nose are immediately affected. The pores are opened, the skin is improved wonderfully. The complexion is brightened and the skin is made soft and smooth. It will not harm any skin in the least.

Mrs. Rickrich Was Shot By Her Brother-In-Law

Local relatives of Mrs. Gertrude Rickrich, of Petersburg, Ind., who received word Tuesday night that which his sister-in-law bit him over the head with a poker. According to the police there, Rickrich then secured an automatic revolver and shot the woman five times. One bullet penetrated the heart. Lamb returned to his home and then surrendered to the police.

A newspaper dispatch from Petersburg, Wednesday, was to the effect that Mrs. Rickrich had been shot five times by a brother-in-law, Rhybe Lamb, 35, a wealthy farmer of near Petersburg.

According to the dispatch, Lamb is under arrest in connection with the shooting. The report says that Lamb went to the home of his sister-in-law in search of his wife, and that when his mother-in-law and sister-in-law refused to tell him his wife's whereabouts, an argument ensued during which his sister-in-law bit him over the head with a poker.

SELBY FACTORY PAPER GOITRE

Removed For This Springfield, Ohio Girl By External Remedy
Mrs. Frank Beard, 1625 Kerr St. Springfield, says in her own home paper, the Springfield Daily News: "I have been a sufferer from a goitre of five years standing for my daughter, five years ago, and it has never bothered her since. I enlarged her neck 1 1/2 inches and made her a nervous wreck. We despaired of her life. It took less than one bottle to restore her to good health. I am glad to tell anyone my experience, even by letter."

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. After the goitre is removed, the patient is left in a beautiful normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily. Get further information at St. John's Drug Store and Drug Store everywhere, or write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Court House

Decision Is Affirmed

Judge Thomas today handed down his decision in the case of the State against Solomon Dever, wealthy Madison township farmer, affirming the decision of the lower court.

Along in April Dever was arrested and convicted in "Squire Byron's" court on a charge of violating the fish and game laws following the finding of a 30 foot seine on his premises, and which was seized by game protectors Frank Voorhies and John R. Broke. Dever disclaimed ownership of the seine, which he declared had been left at his barn by a man named Bloom-maker of Jackson six years ago.

"Squire Byron" held that Dever was guilty of having the seine in his possession illegally and assessed a fine of $50 and costs against him, which judgment is now upheld by the decision of Judge Thomas. Attorney Harry Hall for the state and Attorney E. G. Miller for Dever.

Wants Husband Arrested

Mrs. Jessie Hatfield today appealed to the authorities to arrest her husband, James T. Hatfield, former yardmaster at the Portsmouth Railway and Coke Company, who, she said, had deserted her and their child because of his infatuation for another woman.

Hatfield is also wanted on a charge of selling a mortgaged automobile, the complaint having been filed by a local dealer. It was learned today that Hatfield's mother-in-law, who resides at Covington, Ky., took possession of the automobile after advancing him $400 on the car. She advised the local dealer she would turn the car over and he expects to send for it soon.

Hatfield left town Monday after making a futile effort to induce "the other woman" to accompany him, he said. His present whereabouts are unknown.

Mrs. Hatfield and her child want to the home of her mother at Covington this afternoon.

Boy Ward of Court

Robert Bates, 12, local street lad, was arrested and brought into the juvenile court today to answer to a charge of being incorrigible. The complaint also charged that the youth had a mania for destroying property but after hearing the evidence Judge Gilliland made Bates a ward of the court and allowed him to return home.

Case Continued

The case of Nick Argles against Chris Malavazos was partially submitted to Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court today and then continued for further evidence.

Argles sued on a note of $200 representing part of the purchase price of his interest in the tavern candy store on Chillicothe street in January 1908. Malavazos refused to pay the note, on the ground that the title to the personal property was not clear as represented to him by Argles, he claims.

Attorney T. C. Reilly for the plaintiff opposed by Attorney D. P. Kiehn for Malavazos.

the appropriations in some instances were entirely inadequate and cited the street cleaning department which was given $2,300 under the new ordinance as compared with $6,500 for the previous six months. work saddled on them. He charged that the ordinance had not been prepared with the careful consideration which it ought to have received and that it was being rushed through and he threatened to refuse to sign it. If the majority carried out his threats not to sign the ordinance it will tie up the pay roll of city officials and employees for 10 days or more.

Solicitor Skelton then took the floor and in reply to the mayor stated that he was present at the meeting when the ordinance was prepared and that everything was open and above board—that all members of the finance committee as well as the heads of all departments were notified and those who stayed away ought not to complain.

An ordinance was passed authorizing the annexation of that territory between the New Boston east corporation line and the west corporation line of Sciotoville to this city and authorizing the solicitor to prosecute the proceedings necessary to effect such annexation. The ordinance now goes to the county commissioners for their approval at the end of 60 days if no objections are filed to it.

The territory sought to be annexed embraces approximately 2,700 acres and takes in all the addition adjacent to New Boston and Sciotoville and the Cuyler-Landall and the Harbison-Walker brick plants. The line of the territory enclosing New Boston and Sciotoville, continues up the Ohio river for half mile to the section line of Section 8. It is estimated that approximately $60,000 will be added to the city's taxes by taking in the proposed territory.

Sciotoville is anxious to come into the city and the question of annexing the thriving village will be submitted, according to present plans at the November election. If present plans materialize the population of Portsmouth at the next Federal census next year will be close to 5,000.

A resolution was adopted to issue certificates of indebtedness for $2,000 to provide money for the hospital fund. It was stated that these certificates were issued as a renewal of certificates issued six months ago and which will soon become due.

An ordinance was passed appropriating $42 to pay for painting the third city fire station. Mayor Kaps also refused to sign this ordinance, declaring it a needless expense.

Ordinances were also passed providing for the laying of an 8 inch 1000 feet long, west of Chillicothe street, for repairs amounting to $215 on the cemetery superintendent's home; for installation of 612 feet of galvanized pipe and 2 hydrants in the cemetery and accepting a plat of the Mahert Heights Addition, platted by George A. Kah and others.

Mayor Kaps directed the attention of Council to the fact that the paving of Sunrise avenue in the Sunnyside addition had been torn up and the street graded over without permission and which had resulted in bad drainage and many complaints from citizens in the vicinity. He demanded to know who was responsible. Member Riskey, chairman of the street committee, stated that his committee had been called to go over the situation and he shouldered the blame by saying the committee had given the permission objected to. This closed the incident for the time being at least.

BUGGY DEMOLISHED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noel and Bessie Noel, of Scioto Trail, had a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday evening about 7:30 o'clock when a buggy in which they were riding was struck by a large touring car and badly damaged.

Bessie Noel had taken her father, James Noel, to the street car line on his way to work at the Solway plant. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noel had been to the city on business and were being taken home by Miss Noel.

The machine which struck the buggy had crowded a motorcycle, and the driver of the motorcycle was going around the Noel buggy. He tried to pass on the right hand side on a narrow strip of the Trail. The road was too narrow and he went into the ditch with his machine. The Noels stopped to see if the young man was injured, and when they stopped the touring car crashed into their buggy. The front end and rear wheels on the left side of the buggy were torn off. The occupants of the buggy escaped with a "bad fright" and a good shaking up.

The driver of the machine, backed out from the wrecked buggy and sped out the Trail without offering to give assistance to the occupants of the buggy. Mr. Noel obtained the license number of the machine.

him then he quarrels with me. I don't know the reason. I never go any place, no one hardly ever comes to visit me, only to keep down trouble. I keep my house clean, myself clean and what else can I do. I love him dearly, but he says I don't and he has told me to leave, but I have two little ones to care for. I am true to him and your advice will be greatly appreciated. M. J. Z.

Are you perfectly square? For instance, how do you mother the three children, now, that you have two of your own? Perhaps you are nervous and run down and need a rest so that things will assume their normal proportions. Of course, you have a life in the House Age and have a perfect right to rest and relaxation and normal activities. Think it over and maybe you can put your own finger on the spot of contention. I rather think everyone who has trouble like yours has a pretty good idea what it is all about. If you know, then don't let your wish bone be where your back bone ought to be. Fix things right, that's every single wicked person's privilege.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am coming to you for advice. I live in a neighborhood where everyone is "nosy." They all want to know my affairs and what I pay for things. That's about the first thing they ask. I never ask anyone their personal affairs. Now how can I make them understand without hurting their feelings.

Isn't it awful, Mable? That's the extent of the pleasure some people get out of life. I don't believe they mean to be so unpleasant, they just don't know any better and it's my opinion you couldn't break them of it at this late date without putting yourself forever on their black list.

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me where I could sell a poem and what they are worth. Is the Doc Koko column a free column? If I have a poem printed in this column could it be sold afterwards? I have written a poem and sent it to have music composed for it. I am sure I can pay per copy that is sold on a basis of 25 cents. I am ignorant of such matters so please explain it to me. Also how to address Doc Koko column. ORLEGE.

The Doc Koko column is free. The poem could be sold afterwards, although some magazines prefer that the poems they publish have never been published before. I'd steer clear of contracts unless I thoroughly understood them as they are usually gotten up so that you can't get the paper thing to try magazines in selling things, until you are sure of their value and have received a little recognition. Address Doc Koko's column in care of the Times.

Dear Miss Wise—If Mrs. Lue Eggers still lives in Portsmouth and is a Daily Times reader, will you please have her put her address in your column, as I am her cousin and have lost all trace of her. If you can find her for me and will send me her address through the Times, I will give you many thanks.

La-may Face Powder Does Not Contain Any White Lead

Now you can wear pure face powder that stays on so well this La-may powder. It is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. It will not cause enlarged pores, blackheads and wrinkles. And it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or sticky glue. White powder do first to make it stick. White lead clogs the skin and rice powder turns into a gray paste that encourages enlarged pores. Blackheads and wrinkles. The specialist who makes this improved powder, uses a medical ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and remove enlarged pores and wrinkles. It is also extremely economical. It costs less than any other face powder. It is pure and because it is pure, it is safe.

Mary Miles Minter in "A Bachelor's Wife," At The Columbia Tonight Only

Mary Miles Minter will be seen in what is said to be one of the most capitalizing roles of her screen career when she is presented at the Columbia tonight only in her new American feature, "A Bachelor's Wife."

This is a delightfully refreshing comedy-drama, especially written for the star by Joseph Franklin Poland, well-known writer for the screen. The production, which was directed by Edmund J. Flynn, is among the most ambitious recently undertaken by the "Flying A," and reveals Miss Minter in a distinctly new characterization.

The story has to do with the amazing adventures of a fiery little college from Ballyshannock, Ireland, who comes to America to visit her cousin. Upon her arrival she learns that her cousin is the mother of a baby and that the husband has deserted them two years before. She gets out to effect a reunion but becomes involved with the wrong man. How she ultimately straightens out the matrimonial tangle and in the process is wooed and won by the doer's cousin, forms the climax of this absorbing tale.

Miss Minter's performance as "Mark O'Rourke" from the Land of the Shamrocks, is a masterpiece of romantic comedy. Her sparkling blue eyes alternately reflect love and hatred, and she dominates every scene in which she appears.

YOUTHFUL BANDITS FINALLY CAPTURED

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The two youthful bandits, who yesterday shot and killed Ernest Gray, a deputy marshal, and probably fatally wounded two other members of a posse at Willoughby, were identified today as Andrew and Patrick Keltor, of Cleveland. When taken to the county jail at Fairville, the youths gave their names as Andrew and Patrick Kay, of Akron.

The youths, surrendered yesterday after being fired upon when trapped in an underbrush following a chase, in which more than four hundred residents of western Lake county participated after they had fired the fatal shots, while being run down on the request of Cleveland police for alleged burglary.

DOROTHY DALTON

DOROTHY DALTON HAS FINE ROLE IN FILM

Star is seen as "Fare Fan" in "The Lady of Red Butte"

Dorothy Dalton as "Fare Fan" in the latest Thomas H. Ince Paramount picture, "The Lady of Red Butte," has a character which is a strong reminder of her successful type in "The Flame of the Yukon," a play that established her as one of the foremost dramatic actors of the screen.

Miss Dalton has had an enviable stage and screen career. Her first engagement on the stage was with Virginia Harpell, in Chicago, her native city. After a couple of seasons in stock she toured the Orpheum circuit in a sketch of her own writing, "The Scampers."

Following her vaudeville engagement Miss Dalton went to Denver where she played innumerable roles with the Elitist's Garden Stock company.

Later she went to Los Angeles and was engaged by Thomas H. Ince for pictures. Some of her recent plays are "Extravagance," "Hard Boiled," "Green Eyes," "Vive la France," etc.

"The Lady of Red Butte" will be shown at the Lyric theatre tonight only. Thomas Holding is leading man.

Arcana Tonight

Chapter twelve of "The Red Glue" serial is the chief attraction at the Arcana tonight. "In Death's Grip" is the title of this twelfth episode. As the story unfolds itself in two reel chapters each week, every Thursday, the plot thickens and the incidents become more and more thrilling. Marie Walcamp is the star. "Happy Returns" is a one reel Star comedy, featuring Ned Burns and Vera Neumann. A reel of Hearst News closes the show.

Friday, July 18—Steel Plant vs. N. & W.
Saturday, July 19—Selby vs Drews.
Sunday, July 20—Second game Selby vs N. & W.

That wonders never cease was forcibly demonstrated at the Seventeenth street ball yard last evening, between the Lowly Drews, tailenders in the Industrial League, and the Steel Plant, a drubbing 6 to 5 in what was without a doubt one of the wildest games in the city. The Steel Plant bunch, with the game well in hand and with what seemed to be a lead-pipe club, went up in the air seventy times higher than the moon, scattering wild plays along the way like a leaky bucket in the hands of a pretty milkmaid. And during all this time the large crowd roared and whooped and yelped like inmates in a nut factory, so unexpected was it all. When old slagers like "Jum" Evans and Mike Mowrey began to leave the apple like peels in horse shoes, it's time for reps, and these two most certainly guzzled up the cards last night, making a half-dozen errors, "Jum" leading with four. These two lads, generally as safe as wheat in the bin, will not experience such an evening again if they live to be as old as Methusalem.

But while these two worthies were far off their feed, it must be admitted that Pitcher Cooper, who officiated for the Drews, twirled a very effective game and had he not been so wild and had he received better support, the Steel Plant boys would have had a hard chance to score a single run. On the other hand, "Shorty" Schultz, who was on the mound for the losers, twirled a very clever game and had his support not crumbled the two teams might have battled yet, although the Drews did manage to put over a couple of earned runs in the sixth, when they bunched three solid hits. In all the Drews secured eight hits, while the Steel Plant made but four, two of which were secured by Schultz, who made an ineffectual try to steal home in the seventh and who missed the target by an eye-bash.

The real star performer of the game was Johnny Grimm, shortstop for the Drews. Johnny got two safe hits and rapped all over the diamond, accepting his seven chances in the position. It was a large evening all around for the Quick Repair shoe shop manager, and his friends are of the opinion he has reached his second childhood.

The Steel Plant made a couple of runs before the game was three minutes old. Evans walked for a starter and took second on George Statten's sacrifice. Schultz doubled to middle and Evans counted. Haupt was hit with a pitched ball and he and Schultz pulled a double steal, Schultz scoring when Thompson's throw rolled to the boulevard. Bartlett fanned and Wendell Statten skied to middle.

The losers made one in the third on Statten's walk, his steal and Schultz's single. Haupt was again plunked on the starboard side, but the next three batters were easy. They made their fourth run in the fourth frame, when after Goodness had rolled to his death, Mowrey was hit on the ulna bone and stole. Evans died to Bartlett. G. Statten singled to middle and in came Mike Schultz rolled to short.

The Drews had a large inning in the fourth, when they scored four runs. Reider and Shuler were safe on infield rollers. They pulled a double steal, and while Evans and Mowrey were slipping the ball at the creating star Venus scored. Just how they got clear around will never be known, for misplays came fast and furious—too fast for the scorers to take 'em up. Drew fanned. Bartlett forced Bartlett at second. Lewis singled. On Thompson's single to right, Hartlage scored, but Thompson, who took second on the throw in was checked out at the plate on Haupt's perfect relay of Cooper's single. The Drews won the game in the sixth. Grimm started with a single which Haupt did well to block down. Reider's intended sacrifice went for a single by fast sprinting Shuler sacrificed. Drew fanned, but Bartlett cut a single over first, scoring Grimm and Reider. Hartlage went out third to first.

The Steel Plant tried hard in the seventh. Preider, who batted for G. Statten, walked. Evans popped to short. Schultz walked. Preider came home on Haupt's single to middle. Bartlett died to short. With W. Statten at the bat, Schultz tried to steal home and missed the plate by inches. Then the crowd fled home. The score: Steel Plant A. R. H. P. O. A. E. Evans, 3 1 0 2 1 4 G. Weidemanns Are Coming For Millbrook Game Next Sunday

Shipping The Hobbie

When the line-up of the Weidemann team appears in Friday's Times, the fans of Portsmouth will quickly recognize the fact that Manager Charles Applegate means business with a capital B, and is bringing his club here Sunday for a game against 'Gabe's All Stars' at Millbrook Park with the intention of carrying home the pelts of the locals. Applegate, who piloted the Mayville team of the Ohio State League several seasons ago, realizes the fact that the All Stars will be hard to beat and for that reason he has secured the strongest possible line-up with which to battle them. When his team was here on Sunday, June 22, he was amazed at the strength of the locals. He stated that he had no idea that such a wonderfully smooth playing machine could be selected in this city. Hence, he made no special effort to bring all his best players, having to play three substitutes—good players they were, but not nearly so good as the regulars. Wednesday he sent word to Manager Gahmoun that his team would be here Sunday and that it would be fifty percent stronger than on June 22, when the All Stars won 3 to 2 in ten innings. Mr. Applegate has it all planned out how he can secure revenge and he is coming Sunday to get it. A fellow does not always get what he goes after and it is possible Mr. Applegate, who is one of the hardest workers in the business, may again be disappointed. He goes on the theory, however, that there is no harm in trying, and is willing to take a chance. One thing is sure, and that is that Charles Applegate is one of the cleanest and most gentlemanly managers in the country, and a man of his word all the way through. He can be depended upon to bring a strong team here—he always has fulfilled his obligations and when he says the team will be a sterling aggregation, the fans can bet all they got that such it will be.

Double Header Today Opens New League

The opening games of the Thursday Afternoon Baseball League will be played this afternoon on the Industrial League grounds, Sixteenth and Flindley streets, starting at 1:30 o'clock. Four fast teams have been organized and the fans expect to see some fast games on the half holiday. The games this afternoon will be between the Horschow team and the Portsmouth Dry Goods team; while Anderson's team will clash with the nine bearing the name of the Critterions.

All Union barber shops in the city started closing last Thursday. The will be closed this afternoon barbers joined the list of business places closing this week.

Absurd Diamond Experiences

Oh, the fun and comedy of baseball! Oh, the mirth and merriment of the great old game! As we think back across thirty years, a flood of absurd memories comes rushing fast upon us. There were thousands of hilarious adventures, but at one backward glance, here are a dozen that appeal to the strongest—how many other fans, still living, saw them all?

Winning Streak Is Broken

The winning streak of Bob Shawkey that had endured through ten consecutive games and which, incidentally, was the most protracted of any similar efforts in that circuit in a long time, was finally broken by the Indians. The Cleveland team got to Bob in the twelfth, Arthur Dentle stepped into the first pitched ball, and sent it over the left field fence. It looked perfectly fair to me, but the umpire called it foul and after a wild struggle, Dentle had to bat over. Again he laid into the very first ball thrown at him, and again it went over that

May Extend Season

NEW YORK, July 17.—At a called meeting here today of the National Club Owners, the question of extending the league season to the full quota of 154 games, and the proposed change in the division of the world's series receipts were up for discussion.

Langford Still In Game

The venerable portly Sam Langford is still bumping off other colored gentlemen, and is anything but a crotch for his opponents. Sam never became champion, and he is too antiquated now, but he surely entertained the public plenty, and he spotted the dreams of a flock who hoped some day to wear the crown.

A. E. F. CHAMPION MAY MEET JACK DEMPSEY

PARIS, Tuesday.—Bob Martin, heavyweight champion of the American Expeditionary Force and the winner of the interallied championship at the Pershing Stadium, has issued a challenge to the winner of the Carpenter-Dick Smith fight. If he fails to obtain a match here, Martin says he will return to America and attempt to meet Jack Dempsey.

Grant Denies Rumor

George Washington Grant, owner of the Boston Braves, denies the widely circulated report that his club, at the end of this season, might be transferred to Toronto.

Eddie Ainsmith, former Washington pitcher, has jumped into popular favor with the Detroit fans. While the Tigers have always boasted of capable backstops, they have not been the "popcorn" kind. Ainsmith, with his snappy action, constant chatter and

REFLECTIONS OF SHORTSTOP DONIE BUSH

The longer I play shortstop, the more convinced I am that it is the toughest position on the infield. They talk about the third baseman's long throw to first. The short stop makes throws that are actually longer than any third baseman ever has to make. The hardest play a shortstop makes is fielding a slow roller that comes right at him and looks so easy. You have to hurry the play on a slow roller, because it comes to you so late that if you don't hurry you won't have time to make the throw to first. There never was and never will be any perfect system of scoring errors. Two out of three of my errors are made in the throw to first base. The good shortstop has to know the batter's weakness almost as well as the pitcher and catcher. If any third baseman thinks he has a hard life on the hot corner, I will swap jobs with him.

FOUR PITCHED BALLS, FOUR HOME-RUNS

Bill Harden, veteran of many seasons, maintains that the strangest game he ever saw was one between the Giants and the Braves back in the old handball park at Boston, roughly 1911. "In this game," said Harden, "we went along into extra innings, 0 to 0. In the twelfth, Arthur Dentle stepped into the first pitched ball, and sent it over the left field fence. It looked perfectly fair to me, but the umpire called it foul and after a wild struggle, Dentle had to bat over. Again he laid into the very first ball thrown at him, and again it went over that

YES, A MOST EXTRAORDINARY DIAMOND EVENT EVEN FOR HEINIE

If you are looking for records of strange events or coincidences in baseball, here's something that ought to hold for a while: It has been almost nine years—over since October, 1910—since a ball was batted, on the fly, over the left field wall at Cincinnati and yet, on the day when the feat was last accomplished, it was done twice, in straight succession, and by the same player, Heine Zimmerman! Heine Zimmerman sent two home runs over that fence, in his first two times at bat that afternoon, and it has never been done, even once, by any other man in all the years that have since passed by.

CONSERVATIVES IN HOUSE SET ABOUT TO CURB THE EXTREMISTS IN PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Conservative members of the prohibition committee in the house set out yesterday to curb the extremists in prohibition. The committee is expected to make a report on the whole question of prohibition.

Warning was given by the conservatives that if the radical element went too far and added other severe restrictions they would be certain to defeat the bill in the senate and possibly in the house. The most of which was pointed out by the conservative prohibitionists in view of the published announcement that Representative Morgan, Republican of Ohio, and a member of the judiciary committee, had given notice that he would endeavor to make a motion of the house for a man to keep a job of liquor in his own home for his own use. Word was spread during the day that other prohibitionists were preparing to write into the bill a provision which would prohibit a man's "using" a liquor he might happen to have in his home. Under the bill as it stands the house is extremely doubtful as to whether a member of the judiciary committee could today, whether a person

MOVE IS DESCRIBED AS AGGRESSIVE EFFORT TO OPPOSITION OF SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Wilson began today conferences with Republican senators for discussion of the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant. His first caller was Senator McPherson, of North Dakota, a supporter of the treaty and the covenant.

Three other senators, Jones, of Washington; Colt, of Rhode Island; and Nelson, of Minnesota, had been invited to call at the White House during the day, but Senator Jones was out of the city. The president expected to see Senators Colt and Nelson this afternoon.

The president in his series of conferences with Republican senators—having been made known that other senators would be invited to the White House later—was expected to discuss the League of Nations and the treaty settlement of the Shantung question as those two provisions have been the subjects of the greatest criticism.

I. W. W.'S WANT NEW TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., July 17.—New trials for 11 Industrial Workers of the World and others convicted in Sacramento six months ago of violating the federal espionage act, are sought today in the United States district court.

The men on whose behalf the writ was filed maintained silence throughout the trial, refusing proffered aid of counsel and declining the call of witnesses to their own behalf. Filing of the writ of error was the first break in what they had termed their "silent defense."

Senate debate on the treaty was expected to center about the Shantung problem, with Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois, the principal speaker.

Those in the president's confidence indicated that the burden of his appeal to the Republican senators would concern the League of Nations and the Shantung settlement, the two provisions which have aroused greatest criticism in the senate. It was predicted that he would tell his callers the complete details of the negotiations on these points and, on any others that might be brought into question.

BOSTON, MASS., July 17.—Car service on the street, subway and elevated lines here and in twelve adjacent cities and towns was tied up today by a strike of 8,000 union employees of the Boston Elevated Railway System. Thousands of workers walked from suburban homes, while scores of extra "shuttle" trains and added coaches on the regular trains on the Boston and Maine, Boston and Albany and the New York-New Haven and Hartford railroads were brought into service. Commercial and industrial concerns were handicapped by depleted forces, as thousands of employees were forced to remain away during the early hours for lack of transportation.

That wonders never cease was forcibly demonstrated at the seventeenth street ball yard last evening, between the teams of 6 and 7, when the lowly Drews, tailenders in the Industrial League, rose up on their hind legs and handed the Steel Plant a drubbing 6 to 5 in what was without a doubt one of the wildest games in captivity. The Steel Plant, which with the game well in hand and with what seemed to be a lead-pipe clutch, went up in the air, securing what higher than the moon, scattering wild plays along the way like a loopy bucket in the hands of a pretty milk-maid. And during all this time the large crowd rooted and whooped and scooped like inmates in a nut factory, so unexpected was it all. When old etagers like "Juni" Evans and Mike Mowrey began to leave the apple like coals in horse shoes, the time for yelps and these two most certainly gummy up the ears last night, making a half-dozen errors. "Juni" leading with four. These two men, generally as safe as when in the line, will not experience such an evening again if they live to be as old as Methusalem.

But while these two scoundrels were far off their feed, it must be admitted that Pitcher Cooper, who officiated for the Drews, twirled a very effective game and had he not been so wild and bled he received better support. The Steel Plant boys would have had a hard chance to score a single run. On the other hand, "Shorty" Shultz, who was on the kope for the losers, twirled a very clever game and had his support in the two teams might be crumbled set, although the Drews did manage to put over a couple of earned runs in the sixth, when they bunched three solid runs. In all the Drews secured eight hits, while the Steel Plant made but four, two of which were scored by Shultz, who made an ineffectual try to steal home in the seventh and who missed the target by an eyelash.

The real star performer of the game was Johnny Grimm, shortstop for the Drews. Johnny got two safe blows and rounded all over the diamonds, accepting his seven chances in fine fashion. It was a large crowd all around for the Quick Breaks shoe shop manager, and his friends are of the opinion he has reached his record childhood.

The Steel Plant made a couple of runs before the game was three minutes old. Evans walked for a starter and took second on George Statens sacrifice. Shultz doubled to middle and Evans rounded. Haupt was hit with a pitched ball and he and Shultz putted a double stand. Haupt scored when Thompson's throw rolled to the homeplate. Bartlett fouled and Wendell Statens skied to middle.

The losers made one in the third on G. Statens' walk, his steal and Shultz's single. Haupt was nearly plunked on the starboard side, but the next three batters were easy. They made their fourth run in the fourth frame, when after Goodman had rolled to his death, Mowrey was hit on the outa home and stole. Evans skied to Bartlett. G. Statens singled to middle and in came Mike. Shultz rolled to short.

The Drews had a large inning in the fourth, when they scored four runs. Reider and Shultz were safe on infield rollers. They pulled a double steal, and while Evans and Mowrey were flipping the ball at the evening star Venus scored. Just how they got clear around will never be known, for misplays came, fast and furious—too fast for the error to take "em up. Drews fanned. Bartlett forced Bartlett at second. Lewis singled. On Thompson's single to right, Hartlage scored, but Thompson, who took second on the throw in was chucked out at the plate on Haupt's perfect relay of Cooper's single. The Drews won the game in the sixth. Grimm started with a single which Haupt did well to block down. Reider's intended sacrifice went for a single by fast sprinting Shultz sacrificed. Drews fanned, but Haupt cut a single over first, scoring Grimm and Reider. Hartlage went out third to first.

The Steel Plant tried hard in the seventh. Preidler, who batted for G. Statens, walked. Evans popped to short. Shultz walked. Preidler came home on Haupt's single to middle. Bartlett skied to short. With W. Statens at the bat, Shultz tried to steal home and missed the plate by inches. Then the crowd filed home. The score:

One thing is sure, and that is that Charles Applegate is one of the cleanest and most gentlemanly managers in the country, and a man of his word all the way through. He can be depended upon to bring a strong team here—he plays has fulfilled his obligations and when he says the team will be a sterling exhibition, the fans can bet all they got that such it will be.

For many generations the Weidemanns have been looked upon as one of the strongest semi-pro teams in the country, and since Mr. Applegate has been in charge of the business and playing end of the game, the team has lived up to all expectations. Portsmouth fans are solid behind the All Stars. The fans believe it is the best team that has represented Portsmouth in semi-pro circles since the days of Swander, Bridwell and Andrews. They will be out at Millbrook pulling hard for a victory—make no mistake about that. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and for at least one hour and thirty minutes—maybe longer or shorter—the fans will see two of the most evenly matched teams in the country battling for supremacy.

When John Anderson made his last steal with the bases full.

When Red Fisher stole third in a world's series, with a colleague already on the base.

When Tom Daly's throw to second hit Mark Baldwin on the back of his head, red neck, and knocked Mark kicking.

When Jacko Mullen hit a home run with Pete Browning on first.

When Pete Browning was ordered to sacrifice, and promptly bunted, into a triple play.

When Arthur Dotson tagged a runner who had just started, and the runner skipped right home.

When, with the bases full and a double play, to be made in any one of six directions, Herbie Zimmerman stood still till he could make up his mind—and one runner scored while the next man hoisted him.

When Cozy Dolan batted a fly with bases full and one out, and Doc Gessler caught the fly; and both of them thought it was the third out, and departed from the field together.

When a fly ball, pepped up with bases stuffed, got caught in Cliff Carroll's pocket, and struck there till everybody scored.

When Hank O'Day thought Everett Rees had insulted him. Everett came up as a pinch hitter. Hank asked him his name, and when the young man said "Rees" Hank ran him home, legged.

When Anson, coaching at third asked Dad Clarke to let him see the ball, and three runs came in as Uncle ducked the throw.

When Hugh Fullerton pitched the Athletics as absolutely formidable and the Braves won four straight.

When Jimmy Ryan came to the plate so happy that he saw three pitchers, and with two strikes called, swung at a ball the pitcher threw to first.

Oh, these golden days—these jergens scenes of bygone years!

Absurd Diamond Experiences

Oh, the fun and comedy of baseball! Oh, the mirth and merriment of the great old game! As we think back across thirty years, a flood of absurd memories comes rushing fast upon us. There were thousands of hilarious adventures, but, at one backward glance, here are a dozen that appear to be the strongest—how many other fans, still living, saw them all?

THE INCURABLE FOLLY.

(The Chicago Tribune)

In spite of all the lessons of the past and of the war just ended, congress and the war department are repeating history and are junking the defense establishment. For example, unless congress acts, the effect of the proclamation announcing the end of the emergency will be an automatic wiping out of the present organization of the army. The national defense act, which, contrary to good sense but consistently with our practice, goes into details of organization, will once more govern our army organization. The lessons of this war would be pitched into the discard. The plan to build the army on contemporary strategic and tactical lines would fail, so that with reduction in size according to the notions of vote-chasing congressmen and a return to inferior organization, we should again demonstrate our contempt of our experience and our unlimited capacity for the optimism of the ostrich.

At the same time, a blanket order discharging all temporary officers has been issued and thus, as the Army and Navy Journal points out, more than 23,000 officers who have applied for commissions, and 15,000 who are still in the service, will be turned out.

If the reader will consider what it cost in time, money and effort to make this body of officers, he will realize the waste in this policy.

False economy, we have proved again and again, is paid for in the blood of our young men. It was so paid in this war. It was so paid in all our wars. If the American people can look over the world today and say we are at the end of wars, they are blind indeed, and if wars are still to be, they will come to us. If that be possible, it is a crime against ourselves and our future to do as our government is doing now.

SENATE ACTION RIGHT AND PROPER

We do not see where there is any cause for indignation because the senate is looking into the peace treaty in a thorough manner. A little document called the constitution, which by the way is seldom referred to in these days, wisely provided that the senate should have a hand in all treaties, and that no treaty should be entered into except by and with the consent of the senate. The fathers, who started this government, wanted to get away from one man rule and the right of one man to start and end wars, and so they provided the check. To our notion it is eminently right that each and every section of the peace treaty should be aired and discussed. President Wilson did the best he could, no doubt, and tried to write into the treaty what he thought was the wishes of his country, but he is not infallible. We are drifting too far away from the constitution in this country where we are centralizing government at the expense of the states, and even, and while it is not infallible either, still public discussion is a high line that we headed on the back trail. Let the senate and consideration is a good thing for the people. There are many enlightened and sober-minded senators and they will decide the fate of the treaty. The extremists, both for and against the treaty, will roar and rave, but will neither help nor hurt in the final wind-up.

We know to a certainty now that at least thirteen of our dear friends have stored away varying quantities of the stuff that cheers and intoxicates because exactly that number called us up Wednesday and wanted to know if it was a fact that congress had passed a law that a man could not have a private bar in his home while all the rest of the world was a dark and dreary desert.

Council is going about the extension of water mains and sewers in the right way, that is, it is planning to provide funds only for the work that can be started and finished this fall before cold weather sets in. There will be time enough during the winter to pass legislation for the additions that will be on the market next year.

We see that Mr. Henry Ford favors us hopping into another war in the event the League of Nations is tossed into the discard and we suppose that Mr. Ford's family feels perfectly at ease about it and that son Edsel will again go over the top in the front ranks of the claimers for exemption from military service.

Now that Judge Thomas has told the grand jury to determine who is who in the Commissioners' Sheriff dog catching imbroglio, we suggest that he call the grand jury back after it has finished its labors and put up to it the problem of "How Old is Aunt?"

Senator Lodge could say, in reply to criticism of his leadership, that the senate Republicans would be easier to lead if there were fewer presidential candidates among them.—Springfield Republican.

If Attorney General Palmer is to establish by tests that one-half of 1 per cent beer is intoxicating, he will first have to find somebody who'll use it for drinking purposes.—New York World.

To have a good new constitution Illinois must have competent and dependable constitution makers.—Chicago News.

Once in a while a fact bears out the probabilities. Mr. Barleson, improbably reported as having resigned, has not resigned. But if the people keep on wishing hard enough and long enough he will.—Kansas City Star.

We'll admit that the future of the so-called civilized world unfolds no radiant prospect to the vision of the student. Still, the sky never becomes so black but that a 60-pound watermelon will spray the frowning archway with rainbows and spangle the horizons with flashes of gold.—Houston Post.

Well, we learn now on the highest medical authority, that diabetes is not a disease of the kidneys at all and there doesn't seem to be much left for the kidneys but to have Bright's disease, which we don't suppose the higher entities can ever take away from them.—Ohio State Journal.

THE WISHING PLANE

As Jack and the king rushed out of the kitchen door into the castle yard, they heard Captain Brave call to the robbers to stop. A minute later there were two shots fired. Jack heard Captain Brave say, "I wouldn't have fired if they had stopped."

Jack and his friends rushed up to Captain Brave and found him holding his gun at the two robbers, who were lying on the ground. The king wondered that one or both of the men had not been killed until Captain Brave explained that he had deliberately fired low so that he wounded them in the legs instead of attempting to kill them.

The men's wounds were bound up and they were taken back to the castle and kept there until the other guards were summoned with their prisoners from the ruins.

When the king questioned them, the robbers admitted that they had robbed the castle and that the things they had taken were concealed in nooks and corners of the cellar on top of the mountain.

The men also confessed to other crimes which had puzzled people of the kingdom for many months.

A few minutes later Jack and his friends saw the men taken away, and knew that they would spend the next few years at least, behind prison walls.

Then before all the guests and everybody, the king said to Jack: "The queen and I and our little kingdom owe you much for what you have done in clearing up this band of robbers. We will never forget how both you and Captain Brave have helped us out of our troubles."

Now that the excitement was all over, Jack's uncle would not be forgotten and the pain made from Jack's eyes. When he told Ladydare what had happened she very promptly took him into the castle and in a few minutes had bandaged the ankle and eased the pain. Jack felt very much like a hero, and Jeanne and everyone else wanted to wait on him.

Book had done his part in catching the robbers too. Captain Brave told the folks how Book's frantic barking had called their attention to the robbers when they ran out of the kitchen door. Book would have liked to tell them how one of the robbers kicked him, but once more he couldn't say what he thought. The robber probably knew what Book thought of him though, for Book had taken a good bite at the man's leg before Captain Brave shot him.

The next day a search of the ruins uncovered all of the things stolen by the robbers. The children were allowed to go alone in the cave which carried back the stolen goods belonging to the folks in the country around the castle.

Of course, every place Jack went, he was a hero. Later in the day Jack watched the men at the castle dynamite the secret passageway to close it up so that it could never be used again.

New York Day-By-Day

COMMENTARY

Easy come and easy go. One day a soldier and the next day a Prince. It does not take long until they begin to rumble around in form. In a few more years they will be like the weak and nervous phantoms of the Fifth Avenue Plaza who dip compass all day long for exercise.

They graduate from business shows to the Midwinter Frolics and Follies and before you know it they have enough conversational pose to discuss five verse, musical comedies and symphonic dancing. They emerge from the dark background of the roller towel to the violet ray baths before breakfast.

In six weeks it is said one of the new millionaires with the dominant brain and the crushing brawn graduated from eating pie with his fork to lambing proper asparagus stalks. Keen observation does the trick. The wires go pick up social training.

WHO'S WHO

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

LORD CLAUD HAMILTON

It is announced that Lord Claud Hamilton, whose life work has been to keep the Prince of Wales out of danger, will accompany the future King of England on his visit to the United States this fall.

Lord Hamilton is a fellow officer of the Prince of Wales in the Grenadier Guards. He joined the army in 1911, has been with his regiment through out the war and incidentally managed to win the Distinguished Service Order by conspicuous gallantry at the front. He lost his elder brother John, captain of the 1st Cheshires, in the battle of Mons. Lord John being at the time deputy master of King George's household. His only sister, Lady Alexander Hamilton, a granddaughter of the Queen Mother, perished when the Lusitania was submerged in the Irish Channel last year while on her way from Kingston to Holyhead.

The Hamiltons have always been high in favor at court. Thus Lord Claud's father, the late and second Duke of Albany, was chief of the household of Edward VII until his accession to the throne; afterward was one of his lords in waiting. Lord Claud's aunt, the Duchess of Buccleuch, was grand mistress of the robes and of the household of Queen Victoria and afterward to Queen Alexandra. Lord Claud, who is unmarried, therefore is accustomed to court life and on terms of intimacy with the members of the reigning family.

quickly. As for the girls and boys they are shipped away to private schools and come out full of all kinds of tea talk and drawing room tricks.

The sudden popularity of a tea room in the quiet districts of the East Twenties has always been a source of much wonderment among New Yorkers—who worry about things. The high balls were no better. The decorations were simple and unattractive and the lighting effects poor. The man who runs it confided to some friends the other day his idea of the underlying cause of his success. He said only one thing with red lips. "Simple. New York City New York City New York City. The red lips fall to show the rouge. So there you are."

A bright-faced young press agent of Decollette School romped into his office on West Forty Second Street the other morning and put his legs—two theatrical swimmers—out of bed at 11 o'clock. There was a widespread conversation and the boss, a great light breaking over him, whispered finally: "It's a early wolf, a frayed moon—a speckled leopard. Go to it!" That afternoon at lunch a beautiful young girl came tripping out of an office building in the most stunning costume of the season. The bar and the two valets walked with her. But she was stockings. She walked to the corner of Forty Second and Broadway. Jerry, the cop, ran late. He left his first post and went over to her. "Galloping home, chicken," he said. "That's old stuff. Anyway you're blocking traffic." Then he turned, smiled and called out: "Hey you young fellows and you old prozers too quit following this girl. Fear it!" And the story did not even reach the newspapers. The idea had absorbed.

The song "Sand Dunes" is surprising in popularity. "Over There" and "Hindustani." It was one of those songs that Eastern publishers overlooked. It got its start in Chicago and was selling like the proverbial hot cakes when a New York firm bought it at a fabulous price. It is being played in all the amusement places.

True To The Profession
The famous humorist, had partaken too heartily of Yuletide fare. Acute indigestion had him in tow.

As his friends gathered about him he smiled feebly.

"At any rate," murmured he, between spasms of pain, "I am able to keep up my reputation as a humorist." But his friends were puzzled.

"Disgusting," the patient gasped.

An Appreciation of My Neighbor

The Simple Truth
A Kansas editor announced he would try for one week to print the truth, and he is still in the hospital. He didn't get by the first day. The following item appeared in Monday's issue, and now the boys are getting out the paper. This is what he said: "Married, Miss Sylvia Rhodes to James Cannabham, last Sunday evening at the Baptist church. The bride was an ordinary town girl, who didn't know any more than a rabbit about cooking and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a cat like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date has-been loafer, living off the old folks all his life and don't amount to shucks. They will have a hard life."
